Research Interests

Multilingual and low-resource NLP; computational morphology and typology; NLP for language documentation; user-centered design; trustworthy and verifiable AI

Education

2027 (Exp.) PhD in Computer Science, University of Colorado Boulder
Dissertation: Automating Linguistic Annotation for Very Low-Resource Languages: User-Centered Approaches to Computational Typology and Morphology
Advisors: Alexis Palmer and Katharina von der Wense
Additional Committee Members: Lori Levin, Maria Antoniak and Hannah Haynie

2025 MS in Computer Science, University of Colorado Boulder

2022 BA in Computer Science and Linguistics, Bryn Mawr College
Senior Thesis: Towards Effective Machine Translation For a Low-Resource Agglutinative Language: Karachay-Balkar
Advisor: Jonathan Washington

Awards, Fellowships and Grants

2026 Outstanding Paper Award for Massively Multilingual Joint Segmentation and Glossing, Association for Computational Linguistics (ACL) 2026

2026 Outstanding Research Paper Award for Interdisciplinary Research in Conversation: A Case Study in Computational Morphology for Language Documentation ($500), University of Colorado Boulder

2025 Nelson A. Prager Family and James H. Martin Endowed Graduate Fellowship ($1000), University of Colorado Boulder

2025 Graduate Student and Professional Student Government Travel Grant ($500), University of Colorado Boulder

2022 Departmental Fellowship ($4000), University of Colorado Boulder

2022 Civic Digital Fellowship ($7000, $\sim$ 4% acceptance rate), Coding it Forward

2022 Magna Cum Laude, Bryn Mawr College

Service

2026–2027 Shared Task Organizer for the Shared Task on Morph Segmentation and Root Identification Across Typologically Diverse Languages at SIGTYP 2027

2024–Present Reviewer for ARR (Mar 2026, Jan 2026, May 2025), NAACL SRW 2025, ComputEL-7.

2023, 2026 Graduate Peer Mentor at the University of Colorado Boulder

2024–2025 Volunteer Docent at the University of Colorado Boulder Media Archaeology Lab

2025 Student Volunteer at NAACL 2025

2023, 2025 Shared Task Organizer for the *ACL Workshop on NLP for Indigenous Languages of the Americas

2023 Workshop Organizer for the *ACL Workshop on NLP for Indigenous Languages of the Americas

Research Positions

2022–Present Graduate Researcher, University of Colorado Boulder
Natural language processing for morphology, typology, and language documentation.

2025–2026 Visiting Researcher, Carnegie Mellon University Language Technologies Institute
Contributed to ongoing project automating end-to-end speech and morphosyntactic analysis for endangered languages. Developed CWoMP (Contrastive Word-Morpheme Pretraining), aligning contextual words with constituent morphemes in a shared embedding space to enable interpretable IGT generation via a user-extensible lexicon.

Summer 2021 Research Assistant, University of Southern California Institute for Creative Technologies
Developed an NLP pipeline for the MentorPal virtual STEM mentorship platform to dynamically generate relevant follow-up questions from video transcripts to drive interactive engagement.

Internships

Summer 2026 Machine Learning Research Intern, Pinterest (Homefeed Relevance)
Developed generative slate-reranking model for homefeed blending with direct-preference optimization (DPO) under a constrained multi-objective setup.

2022–2024 Natural Language Processing Consultant, CanopySpeak

Designed a multilingual parsing pipeline (Spanish, Mandarin) to power content generation for a medical language education platform.

Summer 2022 Data Science Research Fellow, Internal Revenue Service (Research, Applied Analytics, and Statistics Data Management Division)
Expanded IRS multilingual filing tools with a tax-domain mBERT model, improving classification of tax documents and increasing accessibility for non-native English users.

Summer 2020 Digital Technology Intern, Bryn Mawr Library and Information Technology Services
Supported digital initiatives for an Indigenous language revitalization initiative by assisting with project documentation, resource development, and community-centered technology planning.

Teaching

Fall 2025 Graduate Teaching Assistant, Carnegie Mellon University
LTI 11724 Human Language For Artificial Intelligence: held weekly recitations, graded coursework, conducted office hours, and helped update and reformulate assignments. Supported approximately 20 students.

Spring 2025 Instructor of Record, University of Colorado Boulder
CSCI 3832 Natural Language Processing: taught weekly lectures with custom slides, updated course material for modern NLP methods, developed a new midterm. Supported approximately 80 students.

2022–2025 Graduate Teaching Assistant, University of Colorado Boulder
CSCI 4308 Software Engineering Projects; CSCI 3832 Natural Language Processing; CSCI 3002 Fundamentals of Human Computer Interaction; CSCI 1300 Introduction to Programming. Responsibilities included teaching weekly recitations, grading, and 1-5 hours per week of office hours. Supported 80-800 students.

2020–2021 Undergraduate Teaching Assistant, Haverford College
CMSC245 Principles of Programming Languages; CMSC240 Principles of Computer Organization. Held weekly office hours and graded student assignments. Supported approximately 25 students.

Mentorship

2026 Aidan Kelley, Master's Student Research Assistant
2026 Maija Grimes, Undergraduate Directed Reading Program Mentee

Talks and Oral Presentations

2026 CWoMP: Morpheme Representation Learning for Interlinear Glossing
Location: Budapest, Hungary; Event: EMNLP

2026 User-Centered Approaches to Computational Typology and Morphology for Very Low-Resource Languages
Location: Charles University; Host: Magda Ševčíková

2025 Interdisciplinary Research in Conversation
Location: Suzhou, China; Event: EMNLP

2025 Untangling the Influence of Typology, Data, and Model Architecture on Ranking Transfer Languages for Cross-Lingual POS Tagging
Location: Albuquerque, USA; Event: LM4UC
